VOLATILE AROMATIC SNUFF,

FOR HEADACHE AND CATARRH

COMPOSED PRINCIPALLY OF ROOTS AND AROMATIC HERBS.

FEW or none of the Snuffs in ordinary use, unite those advantages as an elegant sternutatory which Tobacco combined with other ingredients, is capable of producing The common Scotch Snuff is not only destitute of fine flavor but is universally allowed to be injurious to the head and stomach, and sooner or later affects the transparency and color of the skin The coarse black Snuff instead of clearing and stimulating the olfactory nerves, serves but to obstruct and deaden them and in process of time, by stopping the passages has an evident effect upon the speech

The Volatile Aromatic Snuff will, by experience, be found not liable to these objections—its flavor is fragrant and delightful, the effect pleasing and salutary it sensibly stimulates the spirits, and re[illegible] drowsiness By repeated experiments it is known to be of essential service to those who are troubled with [illegible] dull, nervous headaches

In cases of Catarrh, or what is commonly called a cold in the head, a pinch or two taken at night on going to bed will effectually remove all obstructions.

All those troubled with hypocondria, or vapors, will find in this preparation a complete antidote. During the tedious confinement in a crowded house, or a warm atmosphere, after a fatiguing walk or a long ride, a pinch or two of this Snuff will by its grateful and enlivening qualities richly repay the purchaser the trouble of constantly having it in his pocket

From its great and anti-putrescent qualities, no composition is better qualified to resist contagion, the use of it is therefore indispensable for all those who watch with or visit the sick

All sedentary and studious persons of either sex, will find its occasional use a cheap and cheering relief from that lassitude which invariably accompanies a long sitting or much reading

[Certificate from Dr Benjamin Waterhouse, Member of the Medical Society in London, of the Medical School in France, and late professor of the Theory and Practice of Physic in Harvard University in Cambridge, accompanies each bottle.

The certificate concludes with these words- "I have frequently used your composition myself and recommended it [illegible]"

This certificate was given more than thirty years ago, during which period it has been and is still in extensive use in nearly every State in the Union and with the [illegible] Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle Also WHITWELL'S ORIGINAL OPODELDOC For Bruises, Sprains, Cramp, [illegible] Rheumatic Pains [illegible] of the Neck or [illegible] Stings of Insects Vegetable Poisons Chilblains etc

This well known article has stood the test of twenty years [illegible] every State [illegible] and a high [illegible] reputation that city and country have [illegible] the [illegible] worth the [illegible] WHITWELL'S OPODELDOC [illegible]

"JONES'S DROPS FOR HUMORS."

A PERFECTLY safe internal medicine having now been about three years before the public and its superlative merits thoroughly tested is destined the Proprietors confidently believe to be instrumental still in the removal of a vast amount of human suffering Let the afflicted procure it immediately—carefully read understand and then faithfully follow the directions and uniform success will be the inevitable result

CERTIFICATES

This certifies that my daughter about 3 years of age has been afflicted with Scrofulous Humors from her birth I have resorted to many medicines purporting to be remedies without success among certificates of the effects of Jones's Drops for Humors I was induced to try it, and I cheerfully say that to all appearances less than one bottle has effected a cure, and I can confidently recommend it to others similarly afflicted

Saco, April 19 1844 JOHN H GOWEN

To ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN This may certify that I have sold for two years past Jones's Drops for Humors with entire satisfaction to the purchasers, and do not doubt that they are a great and good medicine, for the complaints they are designed for

York, Me, July 29, 1844 EDW G. BROOKS

Mr Jones Dear Sir The Drops for Humors left with me, are all sold. They have been universally approved of and still are called for I do not know of a solitary instance, where they have been used according to directions in which they have not proved themselves conquerors of the diseases they are recommended for. They have truly done a vast amount of good to those who have been afflicted, relieving the distressed and curing the sick Respectfully yours, &c

THESE Pills are now acknowledged by thousands, who take them daily to be the only medicine that fairly takes the Banner from all others This Extraordinary Medicine has actually done WONDERS within one year past all over the inhabited world where it has been introduced They cause no pain, or uneasiness, of any kind in their operation, and require neither change of diet or care of any kind

The attention of the readers is respectfully called to the following important results from the use of these Pills It will be seen, however great achievements have heretofore been made by the use of this invaluable medicine—still greater, and more remarkable cures daily happen

SWELLING OF THE BODY FROM HEAD TO FOOT, CURED!!

BOSTON (Mass) March 10, 1844

SIR —About a year since I was taken severely ill, with a swelling of the body from head to foot [illegible] The doctor advised me to go to the Hospital, for he said he did not understand my case The persuasion of friends induced me to try Dr Lorain's Vegetable Pills, which in a few days, produced a great change in my system, by increasing the natural discharges, causing an appetite relieving the pain, removing the swelling, and giving me strength and a perfect cure

MARY JANE FRANCES

A SEVERE PAIN IN BOTH SIDES CURED!

LOWELL (Mass) April 20 1844

SIR—For the last few months I have been afflicted with a severe pain in both sides at times so hard that I could scarcely get my breath * * * It is a pleasure to feel well—but a much greater one to say that I was cured immediately upon taking 1 dose of Dr Loraine's Pills J BROOKS

A HACKING COUGH CONSTANTLY ANNOYED ME!

BOSTON (Mass) June 1 1844

SIR —In February last I took a sudden cold after which a hacking cough constantly annoyed me and this combined with my other maladies rendered me truly miserable, as every body told me that I was in a consumption Since I have taken Loraine's Pills and now every body tells me that I am well,—I feel as well as ever I did

TRUE WISDOM.

A WISE general on the eve of battle makes a proper disposition of his forces beforehand, and does not wait till the enemy has made an attack, and thus, by forethought and due preparation, reasonably expects a victory, thus he who has a desire to attain a healthy and consequently happy old age does not indolently wait for the attack of the enemy which is sickness, but is constantly on his guard against his insidious approaches by paying proper attention to the state of his bowels [illegible] Many would in occasionally use medicine to assist nature in her operation, but like a mariner at sea without his compass [illegible] knowing not where to steer, they first try this and that and meet with nothing but disappointment to [illegible] how welcome must be the important fact that [illegible] Pills are now proved to be all that are required to conquer disease and prolong life

COINCIDENCE OF THE SCRIPTURE MODE OF CURING DISEASE AND THAT IN THE USE OF McALISTER'S

All-Healing Ointment.

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING FACTS recorded in the Bible is that which relates to the treatment of the sick and the cure of diseases Most persons, perhaps, may not be aware that the Bible from beginning to end makes mention of but one method of healing the sick and that is by EXTERNAL APPLICATION It may at first appear strange that a work so comprehensive, taking its date from the foundation of the World, embodying such an amount of useful and practical information, and extending over the history experience and invention of so many generations of men as the Bible, should teach but ONE mode, and never hint at any other, of healing the maladies of men in all the passing ages of the world Is it not therefore a little curious to compare the simple but effectual method of curing the sick as recorded in the Scriptures, and the complicated uncertain, and often dangerous practice of the present day?

When Moses was a law giver in Israel, when Hezekiah swayed his mild sceptre over Judah, and when the Savior appeared for the redemption of the world 4000 years from the Creation, the same, identical, simple but WISE practice ever prevailed and was adopted by each in their turn. This rule was laid down by the Supreme Governor of the Universe in the jurisprudence of Israel; it was practiced in their nation without change till the coming of the Savior, by whom and the Church it was re-sanctioned and stamped with all the favor which truth, reason, experience and high authority could give it EXTERNAL application was the RULE Oil or OINTMENT was the means or REMEDY

Particular instructions and great stress were laid upon the purification of the body—to wash the surface and then to make application of OINTMENT, which was the only and direct means of restoring the skin to its natural and healthy action, and thus bring back the FULL and FREE discharges of the INSENSIBLE Perspiration The blood and the whole internal [illegible] through which all the offending humors of the body were thrown off By this means the insensible perspiration was unimpeded in its progress to the surface, while all the avenues were kept open for the discharge of every impurity within It is worthy of notice, that while this method of curing diseases prevailed among the people of God, it having been taught them by direct revelation from on high, the HEATHEN, the Greeks and Romans, held to and practised in the manner of the present day, viz by giving INTERNAL remedies—while one mode viz that of EXTERNAL APPLICATION came from Heaven, the other that of INTERNAL APPLICATION, was the offspring of heathen ignorance, inexperience and mythology The one emanated from that Divine Mind, by the Power of whose word man became a living soul, the other the first fruits of cruel experiment, unnatural device and ungodly superstition

The first case on record is that of the Leper, in Lev xiii 2 "When a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a rising, a scab or a bright spot, &c, he shall be brought to Aaron the priest, and he shall pronounce him unclean" Then follows the cure in the next chapter, 7th verse, "He shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed SEVEN TIMES, and in verse 15 "and the priest shall take some of the log of oil and pour it into the palm of his own left hand, and verse 18, "and the remnant of the oil that is in the priest's hand he SHALL POUR upon the head of him that is to be cleansed. It is evident enough that the purification of the surface, the restoration of the functions of the SKIN, were to be the first steps to the removal of the disease Although the infection lay in the blood and showed itself in the eruptions of the skin yet no internal remedy is mentioned But should a leper appear now what do you think, reader, would be the prescription? Instead of restoring the skin, by opening the pores for the discharge of the waste and poisonous humors of the body and the impurities of the blood, the patient would be required to go through a long course of inward medicines Most generally, physic pills of corrosive powder, 10 20, or 30, on going to bed, and this to be repeated AD INFINITUM The absurdity of this practice is too flagrant to be tolerated by an enlightened people. The next case of leprosy was that of Naaman the Assyrian, a heathen, who was required to wash in Jordan SEVEN TIMES But he, as many do now, looked for some "GREAT THING" and when he was required to purify the surface, by washing the man was confounded It was so different from the practice of the Assyrians, who relied wholly upon internal remedies, that he became enraged—Are not, said he, Abana and Pharpar rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? But he found that the principle of curing disease among the people of God was by acting on the skin, by cleansing and relaxing it, so that it would eliminate the worn out and impure particles of the blood and general juices of the body He therefore was compelled to adopt this course in doing which he immediately recovered

The sickness and recovery of Hezekiah is another instance in corroboration of the principle of external application He was sick [illegible] unto death and when he prayed for his [illegible] the Lord directed that a preparation should be made (not poured into his stomach) and applied externally How singular the fact that when any instructions were given DIRECT [illegible] they were ALL confined to one mode viz the restoration of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION by proper applications upon the skin

[illegible] one should think these cases were more or less connected with miraculous [illegible] those that are of [illegible] this remarkable [illegible]

[illegible] language Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church and let them pray over him ANOINTING him in the name of the Lord This language is broad and comprehensive It includes ALL who may be sick no matter what the complaint [illegible] the sick therefore let him be ANOINTED

Now I care not what are the theories or teachings of the schools, much less the wild [illegible] of the quacks but [illegible] that [illegible] practice as here laid down in the New [illegible] the [illegible] of ALL HEALING OINTMENT [illegible] tend to the healthy state of the skin the natural and vigorous use of its functions the full and free evacuation through its pores of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION and this seems to me is the principle inculcated in the Scriptures The only objection that can be raised is that no preparation is known among physicians, that is capable of restoring the skin to a sound and healthy action But this objection can not longer be [illegible] for I have a preparation called McALISTER'S ALL HEALING OINTMENT that will do all these things—It is possessed of the same virtue and power and operates in the same manner as the ointment used for the cure of leprosy and all other diseases from the days of Moses to those of our Savior I know it must be the same in essence as it can be used without any other assistant in the cure of almost all the diseases which afflict mankind It is only by keeping the skin healthy, that the BLOOD the fountain of LIFE, can throw off its impurities and dispose of all its useless particles By locking up the skin we check the insensible perspiration, and as this is effected by the application of cold to the surface, it engenders the whole train of disorders, from a slight head ache or rheumatic pain to the fatal consumption It is through the surface that sickness and death find their way to the fountain of life And it is because the skin is the medium for introducing disease, so it is the proper medium for eradicating it This is fully sustained by reason, experience and the Bible No other method is pointed out and no other practised in the whole history of the Scriptures If we could find any one instance where physic or drugs were commended we should be silent, but so long as there is none, no, not ONE, We are forced to believe that the use of some vegetable OINTMENT or other external preparation acting as a solvent, is the proper antidote to disease Why not? no physician will contend against this principle, provided there is a preparation that will restore the cuticle to healthy action as well as the free discharges of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION? Here is the stick As there is no preparation known that will do this except McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT it perhaps may be questioned—but I say to the people of this City and State that it will. It WILL relax the skin, it WILL cause perspiration to flow, it WILL keep open the channels for the blood to heave off its impurities, and thus remove the great majority of the diseases of mankind It is simple, plain and unpretending yet powerful, effectual radical and SCRIPTURAL We have thus stated the coincidence of the Bible practice in the cure of disease and that in the use of McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT If one was founded in reason, so was the other if one was according to the dictates of philosophy, so is the other if the ingredients and the [illegible] by Divine wisdom in special revelation, the other only differs in the peculiar providence which led me to this discovery

Both when brought to bear upon disease, seem to possess the same virtues, act upon the same principle in the restoration of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION, by relaxing and imparting vitality to the skin, both supersede the dangerous use of drugs, pills and other vile ingredients in the stomach, both act more effectually in the purification of the blood by opening the pores for the unchecked discharge of its impurities, than any possible mixture taken inwardly—both are harmless when placed upon healthy flesh, but ever active where disease is present

If the paternity seem to be different, the ingredients are nevertheless one and the same—In all their action their virtue their combination their universal application their IRRESISTIBLE POWER in removing disease, they are ONE and the SAME

Those common articles of the day known as SALVES are not to be classed with them as they are mere palliatives, and act ONLY upon the surface without any power of penetration How unlike the BIBLE OINTMENT, OR THE ALL-HEALING OINTMENT, which fasten upon every nerve running along their whole length finding their way to the HEART LIVER, LUNGS, STOMACH, BRAIN, thus striking through the entire framework of our being and holding in just balance the whole internal viscera in equal equilibrium with the skin

People of the City of New York! will you adopt the practice as inculcated in the Bible, in the use of McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT or will you choose that mode which the heathen alone discovered and is the general practice of the present day?

THE [illegible] WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE [illegible] [illegible] seek to pass off other [illegible] Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills

Beware of all attempts to palm [illegible] the SUGAR COATED PILLS [illegible] to the palate but it requires something [illegible] agreeable exterior to combat with [illegible] attempt to analyze the composition [illegible] Coated or pretended improved Indian Vegetable Pills which have been thrown into the market [illegible] extensively in the country paper [illegible] nor is it necessary It is however [illegible] assure the public emphatically that the [illegible] improvement on WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable Pills and that whoever purchases them under the supposition [illegible] wilfully deceived This caution is positively necessary since the title (nearly) the qualities [illegible] combination of ingredients, &c are all those which formed the distinctive and original character of the [illegible] medicine

Remember, buy none but "WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable Pills" which are protected by a patent [illegible] have attained an almost incredible sale and [illegible] owing altogether to their own intrinsic merits The public will pass its own judgment upon any attempt to snatch the Laurel from the brow of the inventor of these medicines where it has been placed by [illegible] thousands who owe their continuance of the enjoyment of the blessings of health to his happy and benevolent agency

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills

have performed wonders when used in cases of Intermittent, Remitent, Nervous, Inflammatory and Putrid Fevers, Measles, Small Pox and Erysipelas, Inflammations of the Brain, throat, stomach, lungs, liver intestines, kidneys and bladder, pains in the stomach back and side, consumption, dropsy of the head of the chest or the abdomen and of the limbs, scrofula, scurvy and syphilis, cancer, gravel, loss of appetite, sick headache, rheumatism, both acute and chronic, spitting of blood, diarrhœa, dysentery and colics syncope, apoplexy and paralysis, dyspepsia, hypochondriasis epilepsy, hooping cough, Palpitation of the heart ulcers and sores of every description, hysteries, weak nerves, and low spirits suppression, and other delicate Female complaints

No other medicines ever discovered has grappled these horrid forms of disease with such general success They derive thus powerfully THE EMPLOYMENT OF NATURAL MEANS TO COUNTERACT THE EVILS OF NATURE The bowels of the earth have not been ransacked for poisonous minerals to infect the system under the pretence of eradicating disease The Field and the Forrest alone have been searched for materials for the healing art From these have been collected remedies attacking the various forms of disease and expelling it by the outlets provided by the author of our Being—the Lungs, the Skin, the Kidneys and the Bowels. Hence Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, based upon the curative mode suggested by nature, are Sudorific, Diuretic, Expectorant and Purgative

The ORIGIN of this invaluable medicine entitles it to unlimited confidence and respect The nearer we approach to nature, in our researches after truth both in science and art, the more complete will be our success in both Look at the uniform physical condition of the Indian Tribes of this continent, whether exposed to the frosts and storms of the North, or to the rain, heat, and pestilential miasma of Southern climate. Houseless unprotected exposed to every atmospheric change, every extreme of the seasons, dwelling at times in morasses and by the margins of unhealthy pools and swamps—they yet enjoy an almost total immunity from disease, while the white man who enjoys all the comforts of civilization, with its attendant arts is as much inferior to the savage in physical vigor as [illegible] How does this happen? Simply because, bereft of the light of science, he relies upon that divine instinct which impels him to select from the produce of the field and forest those remedies which Nature and Nature's God has bounteously provided for the solace of suffering, and the mitigation and cure of disease—sowing them broadcast on every hill and valley Let those who impiously arraign the goodness and justice of Divine Providence, and point with a sneer to the multitude of invalids who lie groaning upon beds of sickness turn from the false lights of man, and study the secrets of nature and they will adore that mercy which has so bountifully provided a cure for every wound—a remedy for all who seek one

Disease rarely assumes one form from another [illegible] to any one case—hence the absurdity of attacking it by one uncompounded medicine But Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills combining a remedy for every form of disease, attacks successfully any combination of maladies This union of powers render these pills thoroughly cleansing in their nature and operations They can not fail of affording relief if taken according to directions accompanying them They may be freely resorted to in the most desperate cases of the most desperate disorders, for they have effected remarkable and marvellous cures They are applicable to a wide range of diseases and their use is not confined to any particular age or to either sex They are now triumphantly established beyond the reach of cavil and the only danger that rests is on the part of the public, lest they should suffer from imitations, spurious Pills, palmed off by the help of titles similar to that of the genuine Pills Therefore, we once more caution the public against purchasing any but the

GENUINE

"WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."

These Pills, as we before remarked operate by purgation—by thoroughly cleansing the entire system from all impurities, and making the invalid in the homely but expressive phrase a new man whether the disease is INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION which insidiously attacks the Lungs producing that dry, hacking cough so painful to the friendly ear, or Cutaneous, showing itself upon the skin in eruptions or blotches, whether the Kidneys or the Bowels be affected—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are equally efficacious in warding off danger Their expectorant cathartic, sudorific and diuretic qualities enable them to take hold of each form of disease

The perfect safety of the medicine is another and important quality and one which has contributed more than any thing else to its extension and popularity

In a word, this medicine commends itself strongly to the patronage of the public, and its use bids fair to become, before long, ALMOST UNIVERSAL

Melancholy Musings

I would not live alway

Oh why do we cling with such fondness to earth
Its smiles are delusive and short lived its mirth
The objects we doat on—the lovely and true
On time's rapid current are gliding from view
With the fleet passing day
They are passing away
And nothing no nothing their progress can stay

Why cling we to earth its attachments though sweet
Are fragile as bubbles when rude billows meet
Its beauty is trancient as sunset's rich light
That dazzles a moment then fades from the sight,
All its pleasures assume
The impression of gloom
Arrayed in a wanton and treacherous bloom

When the warm tide of life by old age is chilled,
And the pulses of passion first restless are stilled,
When the roses of beauty are nipped by the frost,
And the fervor of youthful affection is lost
Oh! why then should we dread
To lie down with the dead,
When the joys which we covet are withered and fled

From the bosom of winter glad spring will arise,
Enamelled with florets of delicate dyes,
The fountains will gush from their fetters away
And the woodland resound to the nightingale's lay
But death only has power
When our charms are all o'er,
An immortal and glorious youth to restore

Effects of Christianity.

Never were materials more stubborn and refractory than were those on which, at the commencement of the Christian era, revelation was called to operate But these materials hard and unyielding as they were, it melted it refined, it remoulded The tempers the manners the habits the pursuits, the institutions—nay the very texture of society, was changed in every city, and province, and kingdom into which the Bible entered

It allayed the thirst for conquest it dim inshed the carnage of conflict it diffused a milder spirit into the law of nations Extermination was no longer identified with victory the vanquished were acknowledged to have rights, and these were respected nor were prisoners of war thence forth subjected to the dire alternative of [illegible] or vassalage

Ancient slavery it abolished modern slavery it is fast abolishing, and the trade itself—that accursed traffic in the muscles and blood of man—is severing its close and will, ere long, cease [illegible] By one wise statute it terminated polygamy, with its broils and its vigils and suddenly the charms fell from the mother and the daughter and half the species emerged from the vilest degradation By another it put an end to the exposure of children [illegible] by parents and the abandonment of the poor [illegible] to [illegible] of wretchedness and want and on their beds of sickness and death No sooner had the gospel of charity touched the heart, than mercy flowed from it The members of the infant church, though few in number everywhere [illegible] defenders [illegible] orphanage [illegible] the [illegible] of want the mo[illegible] heroes and the [illegible] of nations

It banished those gladiatorial shows which had so long piled the theatre with carcasses those human sacrifices which had so long defiled the temple [illegible] It banished [illegible] worship of demons the worship of heroes and of harlots of [illegible] and of stones

No victims now bleed (with thankful exultation be it spoken [illegible]) European altars no widows now burn on European pyres The oracles which required such sacrifices are hushed the altars on which they were offered, and the gods they intended to propitiate have sunk together in the dust and the spiritual worship of the unseen Jehovah occupies their place

The mummery of the haruspex has ceased the mummery of the magician has ceased the games the festivals the vigils the lustrations [illegible] the [illegible] of the altar and the temple the oracle and the response the groves and the high places, the whole of that gigantic and tremendous fabric which [illegible] superstition [illegible] had for ages been rearing at the approach of the [illegible] as it struck by the lightning of Omnipotence fell to the dust, and has been swept by the breath of Heaven, from the face of Europe On the very site of these abominations [illegible] schools of education, asylums of mercy and temples of grace suddenly arose and these have everywhere been the results of the Gospel dispensation [illegible] monuments announced in every part of Christendom that it [illegible] demons [illegible] the king [illegible] Messiah [illegible]

What a comment is this upon that song of the angels which first [illegible] listening [illegible] Bethlehem [illegible] Savior's advent Be [illegible] to the [illegible] which [illegible] David's Savior [illegible] Christ the Lord

At a late anniversary meeting [illegible] Washington City Bible Society the following [illegible] was adopted

[illegible]

The Departed and the Mourning

A week had elapsed and even the most [illegible] the deadly [illegible] say what such a week [illegible] when we [illegible] the empty rooms whose very furniture looks unfamiliar in the [illegible] excluded light the stealthy steps, the whispering voices—faces with a strange, because [illegible] gravity [illegible] whether it be those bowed down with real affliction, or those whose only [illegible] can be the general awe of death, all differing from their ordinary selves And, with one of life's most usual, yet most painful contrasts while the persons are so much changed, yet the things remain the same The favorite chair, never to be filled again by its late occupier—the vacant table—a picture, now with more life than its original—the thousand trifles that recall some taste or habit—and all these things so much more deeply felt when no longer [illegible] has already thrown events out of their usual circle, already broken in upon old accustomed ways When she who is now "departed" amongst us but yesterday—when there has been as it were, but a step from the fire side to the death bed—a surprise and a shock added to the sorrow which takes us as unawares And then the common events that fill up the day in domestic life—the provision for the living made in the presence of the dead in one room a dinner, in the other a coffin—that strange mixture of ordinary occurrence and usual situation And yet tis well Make that week the gloomiest we can—exclude the day light—silence the human voice and step—and how soon, amid the after hurry and selfishness of life, will that brief space of mourning be forgotten There is wisdom in even the exaggeration of grief—there is little cause to fear we should feel too much

How beautifully has Blair expressed the last days of the good man

Sure the last end
Of the good man is peace How calm his exit
Night dews fall not more calmly to the ground
Nor weary worn-out winds expire so soft
Behold him in the eventide of life
A life well spent Whose early care it was
His riper years should not upbraid his green,
By unperceived degrees he wears away
Yet like the sun seems larger at his setting

Advice to the President.

If James K Polk will only keep still, go into Mrs Polk's parlor, and sit down and talk with her about whatever he pleases, not trouble himself at all about matters of State, let alone experimenting and do nothing, he will be called a profound statesman, and a great man [illegible] at present [illegible] is as right as it can be fixed We want neither Bank nor Sub Treasury All we want is that we have land enough to settle the next [illegible] years It is true we should like that money for the public lands but New Hampshire says she won't touch it and rather than [illegible] about it, let it go What the country wants and all it wants is repose

Too much agitation, change, uncertainty [illegible] exciting excitement, have long enough jeopardized the interests, cramped the enterprise, and robbed the industry and labor of the nation of their just rewards I say that a free country and a free people want no laws, is [illegible] and ridiculous [illegible] the [illegible] laws, [illegible] the new President [illegible] people's President [Ex [illegible]

At a meeting held not long since in Highgate [illegible] England, for the purpose of taking into consideration the distress of the working classes [illegible] the speakers read the statement of a working man who had a wife and four children and [illegible] years of age, and who earned eight shillings a week, the man's case being by no means a solitary instance

I have to pay one shilling and ninepence for house rent [illegible] pence, six gallons bread [illegible] per gallon [illegible]

happened to creep in by accident, but he was no sooner discovered than he was kicked out.—After he had got away, and the warrior who had driven him had returned, he put on a great many savage scowls, and shook his fist threateningly, but this he only ventured to do when there was no danger at hand. His summary departure from the circle to which he had intruded himself (Pawnee society is not divided, like ours, into upper and lower circles, but into inner and outer,) and his consequent gestures, reminded us very much of a young man in New York, of a similar calibre, and who one night found himself in the wrong box at the Theatre, from which he was as speedily ejected by the gentleman who had engaged it for the night, as the Pawnee plebeian from the circle of the braves. After the young man had been kicked fairly into the street, and the gentleman was about to re-enter the house, he bristled up pretty smartly to him. There are various methods devised for retaliation for injuries, but the one he adopted was as curious as it was new.—He was troubled with an impediment in his speech, but notwithstanding that, he fairly scored his antagonist by his cutting remarks.—

'Y-ye yer think y-ye've d-done some d——d great th-th-thing, by k-ki-kicking me out of a th-th-theatre—d-don't yer? (clinching his fists and stepping toward the gentleman with a savage air.) Well, b-by thunder yer havn't, I can tell yer. I I've been k-ki-kicked out of a th-the theatre before to-day, and in a bet-better fashion nor that, I ca-can tell—y-ye-yer. Yer don't know the f-fi-first rudiments of kick-kicking—yer don't. Up-up-upon an occasion a married gen-gentleman found me in his bed ch-ch-chamber, and what do yer think he did—d-d-dod rot yer!—I can tell yer. He kicked me d-down stairs, and out of his h-h-house, and across the str-str-street, ber jingo! That was what yer might c-c-call ki-ki-kicking. While I was in the str-street, a fr-fr-friend of mine sp-spoke to me—I know he w-wa-was a fr-fr-friend from what he said—for said he, 'G-g-ger-go it my little shirt tail fellow, h-he-he's a g-g-gaining on yer!'—And I guess he did, for the way h-h-he put in the licks was some. Every one on em t-t-told with a v-v-vim like Hill and Page's p-p-patent mortising machines. Y-y-yer don't know how to kick a gentleman—yer don't!"

Human nature is the same all the world over. The Pawnee loafer and the New York loafer are of the same species of the great family, and manifest their various passions and resentments in precisely the same manner, though in different languages.

After the provisions were all distributed, the Indians departed for their village as they had come. To-morrow we shall take up our line of march for the Otoe Towns, near Council Bluffs. I hope the reader enjoys himself along here. If he expected a finished narrative, of course he is disappointed—for these are really rough, off hand notes, and make no pretensions to anything else. And I can tell him that a labored description of all these things would'nt do. Have to make cartoons of them or they would never be read, although I say it, who shouldn't. When one writes State papers, he must stick to figures and statistics—but a description of a dry march over an ocean of prairie, and a flying visit to a large tribe of almost unknown Indians, will not admit of the same precision; rough sketches—general ideas; them's um, reader them is. Such the old Log Book has been, and is likely to be. Benedicite!

MAINE LEGISLATURE.

Augusta, March 25.

In the Senate, Mr Chase from the Committee to which was referred the communication of the Governor in relation to the infraction of the Treaty of Washington, made a report, which, on motion of Mr Pillsbury was laid on the table and five hundred copies ordered to be printed.

Bill additional to incorporate the Kennebec Locks and Canal Company, was debated and laid over.

In the House, the motion to reconsider the vote whereby the House some time since refused a third reading to the bill to abolish the District Court, and for other purposes, was considered.

The yeas and nays were ordered on the motion to reconsider.

After some debate, the motion to reconsider was lost—yeas 51, nays 74.

Bill to establish the Androscoggin and Kennebec Rail Road company, was read a third time, and debated at great length and then passed to be engrossed.

Bill to revive the charter of the Kennebec and Portland Railroad company, was passed to be engrossed.

Finally passed—Resolve in favor of Daniel Roberts; to lay a tax on the several counties in the State; in favor of Insane Hospital.

Passed to be enacted—Bill to incorporate the Milo Manufacturing Company; to repeal the 59th chapter of the Revised Statutes; additional to chapter 82d of the Revised Statutes; to compel the attendance of witnesses in criminal cases; to incorporate the Megunticook Manufacturing Company; authorizing the erection of a Bridge over tide waters of Little river.

March 26.

In the Senate—

Finally passed—Resolve authorizing a grant of land to the heir of Joseph Davenport, a revolutionary soldier; in favor of Margaret Trafton declaratory of an amendment to the constitution; authorizing the treasurer to receive from the government of the United States, certain monies which may now be credited to the State or that may hereafter become due; in favor of the town of Burlington.

Passed to be enacted—Bill additional to an act to set off a part of the town of New Vineyard and annex the same to the town of Industry; additional to an act entitled an act in relation to the public lands; to change the names of certain persons; to incorporate the Milo Piscataquis Bridge Company; authorizing the town of Augusta to raise and assess a tax for certain purposes; authorizing guardians, and other persons, having the care of, or holders of real estate in trust, to cause the same to be insured.

In the House, Bill to incorporate the Portland Steam Packet company, was read a second time, and the Senate's amendments adopted, and the bill passed to be engrossed.

Resolves in relation to Thomas W. Dorr were taken up and discussed until the adjournment.

It is customary for the people of Ohio valley to brag on their steamboats; it is equally as much in good taste for the people of the Wabash Valley to crack up their flat boats. On Sunday week one of the broad horn tribe left Terre Haute with a load of 8,500 bushels of corn. The boat was 150 feet long and 26 wide. It is stated that this is largest boat that has ever passed the Wabash, or probably the Ohio or Mississippi.

Never rejoice in the misfortunes of others—the clouds may be rising which will overshadow your own prospects.

Meeting of the Loco party. Speech of Mr Hamlin, &c.

The management of the Van Buren section of the loco party in this city in getting up and carrying through the meeting of the party in behalf of their Representative, Mr Hamlin, was more skillful, than, under the circumstances, would have been thought possible. The old cool heads contrived the matter in their best style, so that they not only stand at the top of the heap, but the manner of killing off the Calhoun branch, served to make it appear ridiculously below par.

Mr Hamlin's speech was neatly prepared to this end. He appeared, he said, in answer to the invitation of many of his constituents and should confine himself substantially to the subjects suggested by them, all of which were connected with his duties and acts as their representative. He then introduced four topics of discourse in the order following.

First, the action of Congress relating to the Oregon territory. He went through with the history of our right to the Oregon, and the existing treaty relating to it, and the action under that treaty. He then spoke of the passage in the House, of the bill for its civil and military occupation, and for giving notice to England of a wish to terminate the treaty stipulations. He voted for this bill, but he regretted to inform his constituents that it was defeated in the Senate, and defeated by "democratic" votes—the Senators from South Carolina voting against the bill!! Thus Mr Calhoun was at once floored.—A Calhoun man near us gave a grunt of dissatisfaction at this.

His next subject was the Postage bill, and after explaining its operation, and stating the fact that he uniformly voted for the lowest rates, and the great burdens that would be removed from the people by this change. He voted for and advocated this measure. Here was a keen thrust under the fifth rib of the 'lone star' as he opposed the reduction. A Calhoun, Cary man here muttered that "uncontrammelled" was as bad as "gomandry" any day!

He then spoke of the bill including appropriations for roads, rivers and harbors, and these he voted against in all forms and shapes.

He then came upon the subject of Texas, and in order to sustain his views of this matter he traced the course he had taken through the campaign on this subject, and requested the Secretary of the meeting to read an editorial article from the 'Democrat' published two or three months since. He feared he should not make himself clearly understood in his nice distinctions, of the difference between admitting Texas on National principles, and admitting it for the purpose of strengthening the slave system "hated by heaven and detested by men."

The resolutions of Milton Brown he voted against because he considered them as admitting Texas with the avowed purpose of giving greater strength to slavery and the South, and because he knew and believed that a better proposition would come from the Senate. He voted for the Senate amendment because it left the question of slavery, and other preliminary matters open for future adjustment, and because he was the firm and fast friend of annexation on fair terms.

The late news from Texas seemed to strengthen him greatly in this last position and he remarked that in a few days, probably, the news would reach his hearers that the President had appointed a commission to secure the annexation of Texas upon terms honorable to her and proper for the United States—upon the only terms that would secure the result which the "democracy" had so near at heart.

With well affected mock grief he mourned that the editor of the Democrat was not satisfied with his not voting for the two propositions coupled. But as no such vote was taken and none such required he could not have thus voted to please any body!

The lapse of time enabled Mr H. to go pretty strong into prophecy, and he must, at the time he voted, have had the faculty of looking further into a mill stone than people generally are willing to allow. Easy minds may be satisfied with it but in his own party there are some minds that are not easy. It is rather difficult too for some of us poor mortals who have not the power of seeing very deeply into a grind stone, to understand how, upon a matter of principle and conscience one can vote for an agent to do, if he pleases, an act which the principal declares he will in no case, himself do.

A committee of ten had been previously appointed and at the conclusion of the speech reported resolutions in favor of sustaining Mr Hamlin.

Sullivan L. Haines Esq. moved to amend, in effect, that Mr Hamlin's votes were not approved. A motion was made to lay the amendment on the table. Mr Isaac R. Clark, thought the amendment should receive the consideration of the meeting. The chair seemed in doubt what course to pursue. Judge Stetson, suggested that the amendment should lie upon the table until the resolutions were acted upon—the chair instantly agreed that this was the proper course.—The amendment was laid upon the table—the resolutions passed and the amendment ended in smoke. Thus the Calhoun branch, Carey and the [illegible] position of the Democrat were [illegible] in "Kosh [illegible]"

☞ Our condensed reports of the proceedings of the Legislature show that several bills chartering Rail Road and Steam Boat and Manufacturing Corporations are passing gradually along towards maturity. The debates, which we have not room for, show that some of the leaders of the dominant party still oppose all these bills by every variety of attack. Prejudice against corporations, continues, by these men, to be cherished as a cardinal and blood principle of democracy. Once they had the party with them, but the great mass of the common sense men of all parties see now the utter absurdity and the ruinous effect of this prejudice, and the folly of calling it a principle, and so all the bills, though fiercely opposed, pass through the several stages by handsome majorities. We should like to have been at the capitol on Wednesday, just to have heard the emphatic "Ay!" of those sturdy common-sense representatives on the passage of several bills, after they had been bored with long winded and ridiculous opposition and the Owl-like solemnity of Allen in pronouncing woe upon the State and people! That 'Ay' came out each time, we fancy, with a whack and a will.

Atrocious Conduct.

The Piscataquis Farmer states that a band of men disguised as Indians, a few days since, forced the doors of a 'Miller' meeting in Atkinson and seized and carried off several persons not supposed to belong to the town and threatened to tar and feather the adventists if they held any more meetings.

We are far enough from approving the course of the adventists, but immensely farther from giving countenance to such outrages as these.—If there is no legal mode of curing the evils of Millerism let it go on and on forever before the community resort to the infamous and destructive system of Lynch law, for that is worse than a thousand Millerism.

☞ Gen. Almonte has received advices from his Government since the overthrow of his particular friend Santa Anna. The Ambassador has been recognized by the new Government, but will nevertheless, return home on the first of April.

☞ It is pretty well understood that Mr Rantoul has received the appointment of U. S. Attorney for Massachusetts district in place of Franklin Dexter, Esq.

Fire at Castine.

On Friday morning 28th inst the large building occupied by Messrs. Witherle & Co. and by Samuel Adams as a salt and provision store, and by Joseph Dennett as a sail loft was entirely consumed by fire. We shall have the particulars this evening.

☞ A letter from Washington says—"The Madisonian has been thrown overboard by Mr Polk. You will see that the public advertisements have been withdrawn from that party—and henceforth the Tyler organ is to have no treasury pap."

☞ The Calais people are making preparation for a steamboat to ply between that thriving town and Eastport.

☞ The Bath Enquirer a loco paper complains of the new State valuation and intimates that the agricultural interest was a little too strongly represented on the committee. The valuation has cost enough to be a good one, but it is likely to be less acceptable than that of 1841.

Miss Jane Porter and Mayor Harper of New York.

PORTLAND SQUARE, BRISTOL,
February 17th, 1846.

Dear Sir—It was not until late in last December, that I had the honor, of receiving your highly gratifying letter, dated October 25, 1844, enditted in the name of those esteemed literary characters, who have distinguished its object, by writing their signatures at its close.

Illness alone, or rather a continuous state of shattered and therefore uncertain health, has held me so long from duly acknowledging so great a compliment. It was indeed a surprise of pleasantness to me in my present seclusion from the general world. It was a reviving sunbeam from the far west on my setting day—from a hemisphere on whose shores, northward and southward my heart hath often delighted to dwell.

The late Sir Robert Ker Porter, my honored and lamented brother, well knew that interesting continent from sea to sea. As a traveller he visited the United States, and for more than sixteen years, he served his country unreservingly and effectively, as British Minister at the Venezuelean Republic in South America, through all the difficulties and dangers of military and political struggles, until he left it, early in the spring of 1841, in peace and commercial prosperity. During all that period and for years previous, wherever he was placed his exemplary virtues, both public and private, were my study from youth to age, and meanwhile I often attempted to engraft their unostentatious models [illegible] experience, into the represented characters of my successive works. Those very works which in the course of a publication of nearly half a century, have indeed brought me [illegible] beyond all my ideas of ever-naming such [illegible] testimonials as those I am now acknowledging [illegible] and ardently [illegible] so large a portion of the great [illegible] nation, now established on the vast continent of the New World.

[illegible] therefore [illegible]

though inadequately, my deep sense of the intellectual honor, and also of the more precious Christian suffrage conferred on me, in the terms with which you have conveyed the gratifying sentiments of your distinguished countrymen, in the beautiful official letter which accompanied their costly and elegantly emblematic present to me, a softly cushioned Easy Chair, manufactured in New York, voted by their warm and genial hearts to the tender repose of an old and now venerated authoress of their ancient parent land! Such a memorial of "Past and Present" cannot but be doubly estimated by the heart that has received it, and may I ask of your goodness to represent this grateful response to those highly considered Literati of New York who have so honorably held me.

His Lordship, Mayor of London, on its arrival from the United States, kindly lost no time in forwarding the deal case, with its content, to my usual address in town, "at John Shepherd's Esq.—The Square—Kensington, London," where they are now in safe charge until I visit the capitol myself!

Meanwhile I am putting the last touches to a strict revision of the three works of my early youth, most especially noticed in your approving letter, for a new and illustrated edition now in the press, beginning with "Thaddeus of Warsaw," and to be published by Mr George Virtue, of Joy Lane, London, in the course of the summer. When it is ready for publication, I shall have great pleasure in requesting him to forward one of the copies to New York, addressed to its respected Chief Magistrate, the Honourable Jas. Harper, being a small tribute of esteem from her who has much satisfaction in subscribing herself, Dear sir, your truly obliged, and sincere humble servant,

JANE PORTER.

The Hon. James Harper.

New Post Routes in Maine.

By an act passed at the late session of Congress, the following Post Routes have been established in this State:

From letter B to Wilson's Mills, in township Number Five in the second range, county of Oxford.

From Winthrop to North Wayne, in the county of Kennebec.

From Springfield, in the county of Penobscot, through townships Numbers Six and Seven, to Topsfield, in the county of Washington.

From Vassalboro', through North Vassalboro', Winslow, Sebasticook, Clinton, Burnham, Pittsfield, Detroit, Plymouth and Etna, to Carmel.

From Thomaston to South Thomaston, in the county of Lincoln.

From Oldtown, through Argyle and Edinburg, to Howland.

From Augusta to Thomaston to East Thomaston, about four miles.

From Morison, through Wilson to Greenville, at the foot of Moose Head Lake.

From Fryeburg corner, in the county of Oxford, by Bridgton Centre, in the county of Cumberland, North Bridgton, Harrison, to Norway village in said county of Oxford.

That portion of the Rail Road Bridge at Harper's Ferry, which has just been completed, gave way a second time on Tuesday evening last.—A train of twenty-seven cars were going over at the time—a portion of which passed over the new span in safety, when the engineer, hearing the crash, applied more steam, and thus prevented all from being precipitated into the river. But ten of the cars were thrown into the water, as the connecting pieces between the cars were made of wood, and were thus easily broken—another evidence of the advantage of wooden connecting pieces, as the whole train must have gone down had they been iron. A man and boy were thrown off into the river, but they were fortunately rescued, with no other injury than the shoulder blade of the man being broken.—Virginia Free Press.

THE undersigned, Agents for the manufacture and sale of "VALENTINE'S PATENT WATER WHEELS," are prepared with patterns for casting all the different sizes and forms of wheels required for the various conditions in which the are used.

The superiority of these Wheels may now be considered as fully established; the evidence of which may be seen in the fact, that hundreds of them have been put into successful operation in this State within two years past, and also in the fact that a diploma was awarded for them by the managers of the Mechanic's Fair in Boston last year; and further, that many careful experiments were made by Scientific Engineers at Lowell last season, the results of which, as stated in a communication by one of them, "prove conclusively that the Valentine Wheel is at least 50 per cent stronger than any of the Tub or Reacting Wheels now in general use."

The undersigned are prepared to furnish the above Wheels, together with all other kinds of mill work and machinery used in this section of the country, upon the most reasonable terms.

☞ A REPORT HAVING GOTTEN ABROAD that the All-Healing Ointment was made up in part of mercury, or some other powerful mineral, I deem it my duty to state to the public, that there is no truth in this report. The ground for this belief is founded upon the action of the Salve, which is so different from any exterenal application heretofore known. It is inferred, (and yet without knowing why), that no medicine placed only upon the soles of the feet, could possibly so affect the stomach, brain, and generally the whole system, as does the All-Healing Ointment, without being made up in part of Mercury or some of the strongest minerals.

Physicians give currency to this view of the case, and by so doing prevent many from using it to their recovery. They ignorantly believe that nothing in the shape of medicine, could bring out eruptions upon the chest, if the lungs or liver were diseased, unless it be mercury. I would merely ask, is my Ointment any the less powerful and valuable because its peculiar ingredients are unknown to the profession? Would their nature or action be altered, if I should frankly disclose their names and their real combination in the compounding of this Salve?

But to set this matter right before the public and allay all their apprehensions, I have deemed it my duty to go before the Mayor, and make my affidavit of the facts. Here it is:

I, James McAlister, of the city and county of New York being duly sworn, doth depose and say, that the All-Healing Ointment, of which I am the author, is composed wholly and exclusively of VEGETABLE MATTER, with one exception, and that is hog's lard. I declare most solemnly and positively, that no mercurial or mineral substance can be found in its composition, and nothing that can injure the tender infant, or affect the aged and infirm while applied according to direction. It can be used with the utmost impunity by ALL, and under every contingency and circumstance of life, and will never injure, if it does no good.

Its main object is to restore the Insensible Perspiration in the system, which done, the Blood determines all diseases and impurities with which it is loaded, to the surface, when the body instantly recovers its health.

JAMES McALISTER.
Sworn before me, this 21st day of Oct. 1844.
JAMES HARPER, Mayor.

In addition to the above, I hereby offer Dr Chilton, or any other Chemist, the sum of $500 if he will detect one particle of mineral in its composition. I give him the period of ten years to work at it. We solicit the most searching inquiry into its nature and action. We desire the whole world to know all about this Ointment—and here we would call upon the 30 or 40,000 who have used it, to come forward and say if it has not performed even more than was represented.

We know that it is curing more disease than any ten or even fifty other remedies in existence. It is curing multitudes on multitudes of the liver and lung complaints; it is curing thousands of the piles, sore eyes, burns, bronchitis, quinsy, sore throat, influenza, coughs, colds and sick headache, in all its forms, it is sweeping off the whole catalogue of cutaneous disorders, and restoring smoothness, beauty, and health to the complexion; it is saving the lives of all children, and others who have worms; it is removing all pains and difficulties of the chest, arising from whatever cause; it is restoring warmth and a healthy perspiration to the extremities of ten thousand individuals throughout the land, who are suffering from Cold Feet. In short, it is being used to restore the insensible perspiration in all cases when checked by disease, while it opens the channels for the blood to void all its impurities and worn out particles, thus forbidding the necessity of taking so much quack stuff and other drugs into the stomach.

To sum up the whole matter, the All-Healing Ointment is doing great good, and relieving a world of suffering; and for interested persons to endeavor to put it down by slander, is it not too bad?

If we do evil, bear witness against us, but if we do nothing but good, why should we be made to suffer?

This Ointment is sold at 168 South street, and by the principal Druggists of the city, Brooklyn, and the State, and by
